A National Leader in Pediatric Health

Cincinnati Children's Hospital, the nation's top-ranked pediatric hospital, is set to bring its world-renowned research and education expertise to 3090 Exploration Ave. The city's largest employer will introduce over 200 dedicated professionals focused on pioneering non-laboratory research to improve pediatric care worldwide. This strategic investment within the Cincinnati Innovation District will empower researchers to expand their groundbreaking work and further enhance global health outcomes.

As the leader in improving child health, Cincinnati Children's leads the way in research and innovation – and 3090 Exploration Avenue will be the premier address for this work. The building will be anchored by hundreds of our researchers, which we believe will be a catalyst to help drive additional investment and jobs in the Cincinnati Innovation District.

— Steve Davis, MD, President and CEO of Cincinnati Children's.
